

Sandra Nesbit-Manning

Sandra Nesbit-Manning founded Juvenile Justice Associates in 1987 to respond to the emerging and persistent needs of states to both enhance their juvenile justice systems and to comply with the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act.

She has provided national training for the U.S. Department of Justice, Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention on compliance monitoring. She has consulted in numerous states and currently has contracts in Kansas and Alabama.

Before working as a consultant, she worked on behalf of youth and families at various levels in the fields of juvenile justice and social services. Nesbit-Manning holds a bachelor's degree in sociology and has completed graduate course work in counseling at Colorado State University.
